Instructions

Follow product printing directions that come with magnetic sheets. Choose a fun up beat font that is on your computer. Choose a font size that is easy to see, and handle 16+(they will be cut into individual words or phrases.) Choose double spacing to print on the page. Type a list of fun words, or sayings. Press the space bar 3 or 4 times between each word or phrase. For some added fun change the font. If you have a color printer change the color. When page is full. Do a test print on a plain sheet of computer paper. If everything checks out and fits, print onto the magnetic sheet. I used my small fiskers paper cutter to cut the words and phrases. Just line up carefully. If a paper cutter is not an option use scissors to cut up the words. Store words in a small tin candy box. Altoids is one I can think of.

What a clever way to leave fun messages for family and friends on the fridge or inside a locker door, anywhere a magnet will cling.

The above is just an example of some words that you could use. I'm confident you could come up with tons more.
